

Terms of business

Please read these Terms of business carefully as your order or use of the services of Planta Aleph constitutes the acceptance of these terms.

Style

Planeta Aleph recommends you to explore the content on this website, read birth chart analysis examples that we've published in newspapers, internet portals and regularly reproduce here in the Profiles section. You are also advised to read the pages about what the birth chart can tell you in the Astrology section and the Blog and finally, read the description of the services or products we offer so you are familiar with our style of working before ordering.

Qualifications

Professional memberships include: Astrological Association of Great Britain, the Association of Professional Astrologers International, all of whom have codes of ethics, plus the Astrological Lodge of London. Me, Carolina Sawney, have qualified with the astrologers at the avant garde of the discipline at the Centre for Psychological Astrology in London with a Foundation Diploma (1 Year) and the Three Year in Depth Diploma in Psychological Astrology. This school has strong ties with the work developed by Archai Journal at the forefront of Archetypal Cosmology at the California Institute of Integral Studies in California. I am passionate about my vocation and committed to constant development and high standards.

Refund / cancellation policy:

The birth chart graphic, astrological reports and consultation are authentic and created specially for your order, so it's not possible to refund/cancel an order which has been placed. We recommend you to inform yourself about the product or service before you order. Orders of the online services (Subscriptions to the Articles) cannot be cancelled once you had access to the contents which are only available under this service.

Confidentiality

Planeta Aleph respects the confidentiality of its clients, colleagues, students and others with whom it deals with in relation to astrological work, with regards to the birth data, identity and biographical information, unless there's prior written consent from the person.

Code of Ethics

Planeta Aleph respects the dignity and worth of every human being and their capacity for self-determination and accepts responsibility to encourage and facilitate the self-development of the client, whilst having due regard for the interests and rights of others. In all, we deal with every consultation with the same responsibility as a medical diagnosis or a consultation with a psychologist.

Data Protection Policy

We respect your rights to privacy, so any personal information we collect from this website will be used in accordance with the Data Protection Act 1998 and other applicable laws in Great Britain and the European Union, which means that we'll use it to process your order or subscription and will not be passed on to any third party.
